

WORKSHOP FOOD AND URBANIZATION MATERIAL AND TEXTUAL PERSPECTIVES ON ALIMENTARY PRACTICE IN EARLY MESOPOTAMIA 27-28/03/2014

THURSDAY, 27/03/2014

9.30-10.00

Maria Bianca D'Anna, Carolin Jauß, Cale Johnson: Welcome and introduction to the workshop

10.00-11.45

Carolin Jauß: Storing, pouring, eating, meeting. Ceramic vessels and alimentary practice

Marisol Correa Ascencio: Understanding food processing and consumption in the Late Uruk period via absorbed organic residue analysis

Klaus Wagensohn: Food and containers for food in the archaic textual record

11.45-13.00 Lunch

from 14.00

«Meeting the objects of our studies»

Vorderasiatisches Museum, Berlin: Tour of the archives and hands-on work with artefacts from Uruk and Habuba Kabira → Workshop participants only.

ORGANIZER

Freie Universität Berlin / Institut für Vorderasiatische Archäologie /
Institut für Altorientalistik / Excellence Cluster Topoi
Contact: cjauss@zedat.fu-berlin.de

IN COOPERATION WITH

Vorderasiatisches Museum
Staatliche Museen zu Berlin - Preußischer Kulturbesitz

FINANCED BY

L'Institut Européen d'Histoire et des Cultures de l'Alimentation
Tours, France

FRIDAY, 28/03/2014

9.00-10.30

Maria Bianca D'Anna: Food control at the time of centralization. Storing, cooking and eating at Arslantepe-Malatya during period VI A (3300 BCE ca.)

Rémi Berthon: From the animals to the meals. The contribution of zooarchaeology to the knowledge of alimentary practices during the Uruk period

Eva Rosenstock: The price of urbanization? Body height development in Europe and the Near East around 3000 BC

10.30-10.45 Coffee Break

10.45-12.15

Jacob L. Dahl: The production and storage of food in Early Iran

Hagan Brunke: Food and food practices according to the Ur III administrative record

12.15-13.45 Lunch

13.45-15.30

Reinder Neef: Food and urbanization in Mesopotamia in the 4th millennium BC. An archaeobotanical view

Susan Pollock: Ovens, fireplaces and the preparation of food in Uruk Mesopotamia

J. Cale Johnson: Defining institutional scale in the Late Uruk and the Early Dynastic feast records

15.30-17.00 Coffee and Final Discussion

VENUE

TOPOI BUILDING DAHLEM
HITTORFSTR. 18 / 14195 BERLIN